Advanced Practice Registered Nurses' Adherence Practices, Beliefs, and Barriers to the National Cervical Cancer Screening Guidelines for Women Ages 30-65: A Pilot Study.

The purpose of this capstone project was to conduct a preliminary pilot research study to describe the current practices of APRNs with respect to current evidence-based cervical cancer screening guidelines for women ages 30-65. This survey project also sought to describe and compare APRNs' knowledge of the cervical cancer screening guidelines, adherence to screening recommendations, beliefs, and perceived barriers to implementation of the recommended cervical cancer screening intervals.
